Weyt-kp – I would like the opportunity to serve Tk'emlupsemc for the next term; many people have been concerned about my health- but please be assured that I am in good health and still work at the Painted Pony Café as a prep cook, dish washer, and an all-around person. I enjoy this very much. I was the First---First Nation Support Worker and language teacher within the local School district and would like to see our culture+ language flourish within our children because that is who we are as Secwepemc as It is our identity that keeps us strong, as a nation.

I have participated in “Idol No More” and not afraid to stand up for our rights, also have fasted 7 days for the protection of our environment plus to help raise awareness of environment issues; Fed+ Prov reps came to hear what the concerns was of bill C-51

I challenged Sc/f through the Human Rights Tribunal, when they took 3 of my foster children away and put them in a white home, I won that case and got them back but I am happy to say that they are now with their mother. I will advocate for all children who were taken away from families and communities. We have suffered enough through Residential Schools and this has got to stop.

I actively participated at the Mt. Polly protest camp for a few days- as a support for environment concerns about the Mt Polly mine disaster of clean-up of the spill.

I have attended meetings and gatherings concerning the environment. I still do a lot of public relations when requested to do openings plus closings e.g. Kamloops City Inaugural, The Missing & Murdered Woman Vigils , Take Back the Night, First Nations Technology Council, and many more.

I respect and participate in traditional ceremonies, volunteer and support for many social functions, such as gatherings, funerals, and continue to visit local schools, I do a lot of local, regional and international public relations.

Once the Residential School cases were accepted as a class action suit, I was instrumental in ensuring that Day Scholars were included as a part of the class action suit as they also attended the same school ensuring that there was healing programs for all who attended the Residential School.

I cannot make any promises, but I will promise an open door policy and open communication and membership involvement, through working committee’s and transparency.

Your vote counts, so get out and vote for Evelyn Camille!
