Payment Deferral Options

Royal Bank of Canada (RBC) and Bank of Montreal (BMO) have both recently announced measures that are being put in place for homeowners that have had their income impacted due to the COVID-19 outbreak. These measures include deferring mortgage payments for a period of time.

Both RBC and BMO will be helping their clients manage these relief options on a case-by-case basis. If you are interested in more information, it is recommended that you visit your banks website or contact your local branch.
