Weyt-kp xwexweytep Tk'emlúps te Secwépemc!

My name is Nicole (Morning-Star) Peters; my parents are Clayton and Sherry Peters; and grandparents are late Peter and Nancy Peters. My husband Will (Stay at home dad/Mechanic/Artist) and I have a blended family of six (Jayden, Julian, Autumn, Tyler, Santiago and Tyson). Our children are actively involved in the community with sports; basketball, soccer and horseback riding. Our family includes our pet goats, dogs and cats.

I completed a Bachelor of Social Work (BSW) at TRU in 2020 after completing a Diploma of Human Services at TRU in 2018 (Dean's List). As a BSW student, I worked as a counsellor/facilitator with the Power of Being a Girl Conference; a workshop aimed at empowering young girls to navigate the challenges of growing up in today's world. I was also a Anti-Violence Crisis Intervention worker at the Y-Women's Shelter, supporting women and their children. These experiences led me to my current work in advocating for the implementation of Secwépemc Nation Children and Family legislation. As a part of the SNTC leadership team, I am responsible (or participate in) for policy development, committee meetings and operational management. My personal and professional experience, combined with my heartfelt commitment to Tk'emlúps te Secwépemc makes me a strong candidate for Council.

- I stand for fairness, equality and accountability;
- I have a strong voice and I will advocate for members;
- I have passion for our community and I will engage, listen and support members;
- I am dedicated to asserting our inherent title and rights;
- I want inclusive access to programs and services for all members;

I am committed to serve ALL Tk'emlúps te Secwépemc members as a whole.

Kukwstsétselp, I look forward to hearing from membership.
